Of course, that's just one of the many reasons why you should study abroad with ISA. Here are a few more

“

ISA makes it really easy to have an amazing experience abroad, no matter what country you choose.”

HUNTER W.
ROME, ITALY

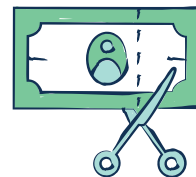

WE'RE EXPERTS

Since 1987, over 100,000 students have explored the world with us. During that time, we've seen a lot and learned a lot. Our students were especially grateful for our expertise last spring, when we quickly coordinated a COVID-19 pandemic response that ensured student safety and continuous academic engagement.

WE'RE EVERYWHERE

We host programs on five continents and in over 60 cities, giving you more than 700 programs to choose from.

WE'RE INCLUSIVE

We are committed to expanding access to study abroad for everyone. That's why we offer a wide variety of budget friendly programs, from short-term sessions to year-long experiences, at a range of prices. As well as over $1,000,000 in scholarships and grants each year. Check out page 9 to learn more about our scholarships and grants.

An Eye on Education & Exploration

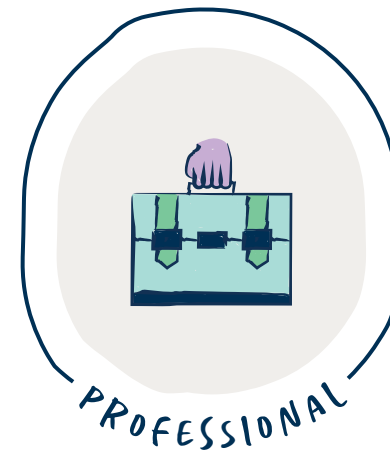

We want you to have the most impactful experience possible. That's why our programs are designed to cultivate opportunities for learning and personal development through the ISA Discovery Model.

“

I love how well-rounded ISA makes the study abroad experience. ISA makes the learning objective not only about learning more about your host culture, but also learning more about yourself.”

DIANA K.
SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA

The ISA Discovery Model ensures that all of your cultural activities and excursions provide opportunities to engage with learning in five areas:

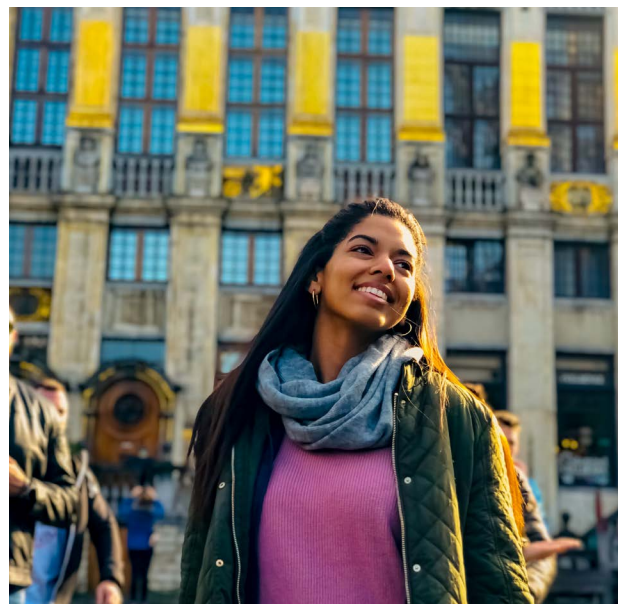

A Lasting Impact

While your grades, major, and work experience are important, the ever-evolving job landscape has increased the demand for transferable soft skills across all professional fields.

Throughout your ISA program, you'll develop some serious transferable skills as you:

- Expand your global knowledge
- Experience increased self-awareness and personal growth
- Learn to adapt to new experiences and to cope with the unexpected
- Increase your intercultural competencies by working with others
- Become more tolerant of ambiguity
- Immerse yourself in the study of another language or culture

Let's Talk Funding

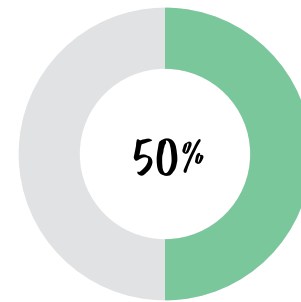

A lot of study abroad providers don't like talking about their program prices. We don't mind it, though. First, because we price our programs to be affordable and inclusive. Second, because paying for your program is a lot easier than you might think.

For starters, if you already use financial aid or scholarships to pay for your education now, it's likely that you can use those awards to go abroad, too! We even allow students using full or partial aid to defer their program payment until funds are available.

Each year, we give away over $1,000,000 to help students achieve their dreams through our scholarship and grants programs.

 PRO TIP: Our payment plan options allow you to break up the cost of your program into smaller increments, so you can pay off your balance before you go abroad.

50% of ISA students use financial aid to pay for their program abroad.

Over 75% of ISA students receive a grant, scholarship, or discount directly from ISA for their program.

START PLANNING NOW!

Budgeting tools, scholarship information, and payment plan options are available online at studiesabroad.com to help you plan for your program.

Our advisors are also able to walk you through your options and help you get the conversation started with your Study Abroad and Financial Aid offices. Call 512-480-8522 to get started.

What's Next?

A few steps to make your adventure abroad happen.

1. PICK THE RIGHT PROGRAM

We can help you determine that perfect program by asking the right questions to better understand what you're looking for and hope to gain by studying abroad. A few important things to consider are what you want in a destination, what courses you need to take, and what programs fit with your financial plan.

PRO TIP: It's never too early to start thinking about your study abroad options. Even if it's the first day of your freshman year, we'd love to help you start planning for your experience abroad.

Call 512-480-8522 to book a Q&A session with one of our Advisors.

2. TALK TO THE RIGHT PEOPLE

Once you know where you want to go, you'll want to meet with your Study Abroad office and Financial Aid offices on campus while also continuing to connect with ISA.

PRO TIP: Don't forget to loop in your parents. They have an investment in this too.

3. SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATIONS

It's important to remember that you'll have TWO applications—an application with your Study Abroad office and an application with ISA. Both may take a little time to complete, so we'd recommend starting them early and not just adding them to an all-nighter.

PRO TIP: Don't feel like you need to do this step by yourself. If you ever have questions when working on your application, we're more than happy to provide answers. It's actually our job, and we love what we do.

Want Something More Specific?

Not sure if a standard study abroad program is right for you? We might have something that better fits your needs and interests. To the right you'll find other programs we offer. Each is unique in the execution but equal in their impact.

ISA helped me grow as a professional and as an individual. The resources that they provided and the support that they gave were exactly what I needed during my time abroad and definitely helped me feel prepared to be on the other side of the world, and comfortable with the uncomfortable. I am now more confident in myself and proud of who I have become while being abroad.”
